FREE EID TREATMENT CAMP 2019

VETS CARE CLUB, UVAS

Vets Care Club working under the auspices of Vets Care Organization has always worked for the ailment of the animals and uplifting the veterinary profession in every possible manner. The unabating legacy of the pioneers which is aptly versed by the new office bearers. Keeping the tradition alive, the club arranged a 5-day free treatment camp from 5th to 9th of August 2019 at Saggian Bakar Mandi and Surgery Clinic, UVAS.

A large number of students participated in the activity making it a huge success.

Students provided free treatment and also consulted the general public visiting the Mandi regarding purchasing of the animals.

In the camp, almost 500 animals were treated, various cases of maggot wound, lameness, diarrhea and foot lesions were treated.

Students collaborated with various organizations, worked as a team and learned management of large and small animals along with diagnostic skills to make them an apt clinician. The purpose of Camp was to educate the students and while on the other hand to facilitate the farmers.

Forth year seniors expanded their efforts and held a camp at surgery clinic, UVAS as well, treating the animals there.

Vets Care Club is thankful to professor Dr. Aneela Zameer Durrani (CLMS) for her utmost affection, support and guidance at every level of the event.

We are thankful to our sponsor bodies who provided medicine for the camp, Selmore Pharmaceuticals, Symans, Prix Pharma and Leads Pharma. We thank them and hope that this will lay the foundation to forge a relation for years to come.
