VCS ORGANIZED ARTICLE WRITING COMPETITION ON WORLD VETERINARY DAY

The Vet Crescent Society of the University of Veterinary and Animal Sciences (UVAS) Lahore collaborated with Dr. Magda Upton from Warwick Veterinary Hospital, Australia and organized an "Online Article Writing Competition" on the World Veterinary Day-24th of April 2021.

Almost 20 participants from Pakistan and India participated in this Article Writing Competition on the topic "Role of Veterinarians in COVID-19 Crisis".

Dr Magda Upton who has been working as a small animal veterinarian for the past 20 years acted as the Judge of this competition.

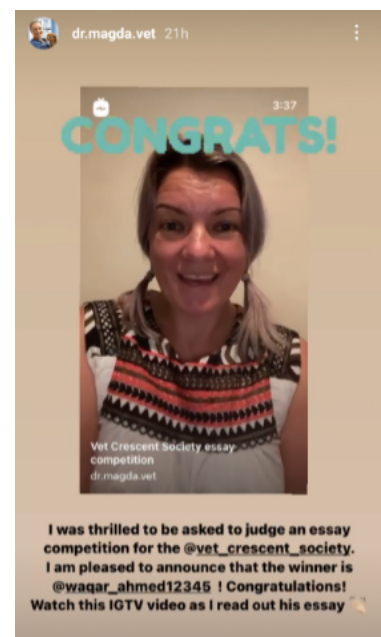

Everyone participated in the competition with full enthusiasm, that was clearly evident from the quality and extraordinary articles written by the participants. Society members selected the four top-notch articles from all the entries and sent them over to Dr. Magda.

Dr. Magda then evaluated the articles and chose the most promising article from the rest. She appreciated the chosen article by reading that article in a video and uploaded that video on her Instagram blog.

The event was a huge success and the society was much appreciated for crossing the borders. The healthy collaboration between VCS and Warwick Veterinary Hospital executed a successful event and that was all possible because of the support of our Patron Dr Aneela Zameer Durrani. She not only provides us with such huge platforms but also motivates us to achieve big targets through her continuous support. We are thankful to her for always being there for us. VCS is fully devoted to excel on every platform under her guidance.
